Interior Designer, Hospitality and Multi-Family experience

JDavis connects communities through design by creating places that bring people, neighborhoods, cities and regions together. It is our mission to create stimulating, functional and sustainable places through a collaborative approach. Our multi-disciplinary practice brings together professionals in architecture, landscape architecture, planning, interior design and procurement management serving the Mid-Atlantic and Southeast regions. Our areas of expertise include multifamily housing, urban design & planning, affordable housing, student housing, senior living, commercial office, mixed-use, retail, clubs and resorts, coastal, parks and master planning. We believe that good design is about making connections between people and places, the natural environment and built environment.
